“Sometimes it takes clever effort to reveal nature’s true colors and personality.”

“Images - visual stories - engage, even inspire, our heart and soul.”

Art and style exist in the perceptive eye and heart of the beholder...

I don't know why other artists create. For me, it is very personal. I do it primarily for the incredible peace and satisfaction that engulfs me when I complete an individual image or series of images. The only thing that equals this sense of satisfaction is the unique impressions others share with me about how they view my art - their emotional reactions and thoughts.

“So much of what we are, what we feel, is based on our natural environment and how we interact with it.”
